COLD FORMALITY WILL MARK FINAL SCENE OF THE WAR

Paris, June 25—Unless the German government announces the personnel of a new peace delegation by this evening, the allied and associated governments will send a note to Germany and call Premier Bauer to order in the sharpest terms, reminding him that their patience is exhausted.

In the meantime, Marshal Foch has been instructed to hold his troops in readiness.

The French newspaper La Liberte reported yesterday that Foreign Minister Mueller had been named to head the German delegation, but it was stated at the French foreign office that no official information of the personnel of the delegation has been received.

Paris, June 25.—Cold formality will mark the final scene in the drama of the world war.

There will be no friendly exchanges between the allied and German peace delegates, it was decided today. Any attempt by the Germans to debate the treaty problems before signing or to make further oratorical protests will not be permitted. The council of five has decided that there will be but one speech. That will be made by President Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference, in opening the meeting. Then the signing of the treaty will begin, the Big Five signing first, then the smaller allied powers and lastly, the Germans.

Berlin, June 25.—Disorders have again broken out in Berlin following acceptance of the peace treaty.

Mobs are looting shops and other buildings in many parts of the city. One hundred looters had been arrested at midnight last night.

There is a new strike expected almost hourly. The telephone and postal workers have quit work, handicapping the city's industries seriously. Delayed reports indicate that the strike disturbances are country wide.

Feelings of revenge and hatred of the allies is springing up alongside the chaos here. Orchestras in the Berlin cafes last night struck up the old war songs of the "Deutschland Uber Alles" type. The crowds sang the songs with wild enthusiasm. Every where people are earnestly discussing plans for Germany's revenge when the proper time comes.

GERMAN PAPER SAYS PEACE IS WITHOUT VALUE

London, June 25.—The Berlin Vorwaerts, in a leading editorial today declares that the peace just agreed to is valid only so long as the power which dictated it exists, according to a Central News dispatch.

"This peace," said the Vorwaerts "is due to compulsion and is therefore valueless. The German people will never forget the injuries suffered in this peace."

"It is valid only so long as the power which dictated it exists."

The Vorwaerts is the semi-official organ of the Majority Socialists, who control the present German government.

RELIEVED OF COMMAND.

Washington, June 25. — Major Samuel D. Sturgis has been relieved of command of Camp Gordon, Ga., and assigned to the command of Camp Pike, Ark., the war department announced today. Upon his arrival from overseas Major General Edwin M. Lewis will be assigned to the command of Camp Gordon.

YOU WILL BE MORE THAN PLEASED.

President Wilson's seal affixed to the treaty document is a replica of the American flag.

Clemenceau's seal is an owl. The day on which the ceremony will take place has not yet been fixed, though it is believed in French official circles that arrangements may be completed for signing on Friday afternoon. Besides the allied and German delegates 600 persons will be admitted to the Versailles palace to witness the signing, including 350 newspaper correspondents and 250 distinguished guests. As the German delegates leave the palace, they will receive the salute of a French guard. That will be the only direct evidence that the war is ended.

War Minister Gustave Noske and Generals Reinhard and Von Lutwitz have pledged their support to the government in the present crisis. Noske declared he would take every measure necessary to preserve order. The statements from the three military leaders, the government hopes, will at least temporarily allay attempts by the government troops to join the anti-peace agitations.

The conservatives are stirring up trouble by issuing manifestos condemning the signing of a treaty that gives away German territory, reduces the size of her army and surrenders her fleet and colonies. They openly proclaim that a day of reckoning is coming.

It appears to be the aim of the conservatives to create sentiment in favor of raising a new army for an attack on the allies as soon as the entente armies are demobilized.

TEACHERS GET RAISE

Columbus, O., June 25.—Elementary teachers in Columbus were voted a 33 1-3 per cent increase and all other teachers a 25 per cent increase by the Columbus board of education. It is now up to the voters of the city to approve a bond issue which will make the increase possible. If the bond issue fails, it is announced that the schools will be unable to function more than six or seven months during the coming school year.

BUY HALL FOR USE AS A PUBLIC FORUM

Cleveland, O., June 25.—The Good Will Industries, a welfare organization conducted under the auspices of the Methodist church, has purchased Acme hall, for five years the meeting place of Cleveland Socialists and radicals. It was one of the chief rallying places in the May day riots. If the Socialists agree to relinquish a lease which has two years to run the hall will be used as a public forum for the discussion of industrial problems.

SELLS FARM AND THEN BUYS IT BACK

New Cambria, Kan., June 25.—Hal Donmeyer, owner of one of the best farms in this section of Kansas, decided the other day he would sell his farm. Many people had asked him to set a price, but as he had received it from his father, who settled here in the early days, he always declined.

However, he sold the farm to Cleveland Miller. An hour after the deed had been recorded, Hal repented of his act and sought out Cleveland to buy back the farm. He did, but it cost him just $2,500 more than he sold it for.

HALL OF MIRRORS WHERE GERMANS WILL SIGN PEACE TREATY.

Hall of Mirrors where Germans will sign peace terms.

Arrangements have been made at Versailles for the signing of the peace treaty. According to a report from Versailles everything is in readiness for the ceremony which will probably take place June 26. The famous Gallery of Mirrors will be the scene of the actual signing of the treaty. The carpets have been laid and the ornamental table with its eighteenth-century gilt and bronze decorations has been placed in position on the dais where the plenipotentiaries will be seated. Fronting M. Clemenceau's chair will be placed a small table on which the diplomatic instruments will be laid. It will be to this table that each representative is called in alphabetical order to sign his name to the treaty and affix to it his government seal. As there are 100 delegates the ceremony is expected to take at least two hours.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT BILL IS ABOUT READY TO PRESENT TO HOUSE

Washington, June 25.—Final opportunity was given today for the public to enter a plea to repeal prohibition.

The sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee was holding its final public hearings today on prohibition legislation and Senator Sterling, the chairman, expected the committee would complete its consideration of enforcement legislation before the end of the week. He said, however, that he did not expect the legislation to give the attention of the senate before the middle of next week when appropriation bills will be passed.

Patent medicine and drug interests appeared before the committee today in an attempt to convince the members that prohibition should not extend to their products.

Prohibition enforcement measures as they now stand would so regulate proprietary medicines that it would be impossible for them to be used as intoxicants. Drug interests declared that too strict legislation against patent medicines would create the danger of abolishing by law some medicines which are held by the medical profession to be necessities.

Representatives of firms manufacturing flavoring extracts also asked to be heard by the committee during its session today. They expressed a fear that their business would come under the ban if proposed prohibition enforcement laws are adopted.

The most difficult problem which the committee had to deal with, however, was the determination of what an intoxicating beverage is. With several court decisions before them and the testimony of eminent physicians and chemists, there was some division on the question. The strong supporters of prohibition were of the opinion that one half of one per cent of alcohol made a beverage intoxicating.

PUBLIC INTERESTED IN CRIME JURY REPORT

Cleveland, June 25.—Public interest centers today in the report of the vice investigating grand jury which met today to ballot on indictments and make a final report to the court.

The report to be a lengthy one is expected to be made public late today following the dismissal of the grand jury by Judge Stevens to whom they will make their return.

TAFT WILL SPEAK AT CENTENARY FRIDAY

Columbus, June 25.—Former President Wm. H. Taft will be the chief speaker at the Methodist centenary Friday and will be the guest of honor at a banquet at the Masonic temple in the evening.

A telegram from Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, stating that he will be present July 4 for an address, has been received. McAdoo Rumors continued today that President Wilson is certain to terminate war time prohibition by a proclamation declaring that demobilization is at an end. If this proclamation should be issued, Rep. Randall, of California, prohibitionist, has served notice that he will endeavor to override the proclamation and continue war time prohibition through an amendment to the prohibition enforcement law.

The house judiciary committee expected to complete its draft of the enforcement bill today and chairman Volstead will introduce it immediately into the house with notice that he will call it up for consideration within 24 hours. He will not wait even to have it printed in its final form for information of house members. In its present shape the bill links together wartime and constitutional amendment enforcement with severe penalties for violations under a director of prohibition working with the department of justice and subject to the supervision of the attorney general. All beverages containing over one-half of one per cent alcohol are prohibited.

Under the house bill individuals may retain their stocks of liquors if such stocks are stored in buildings occupied by them as residences and the use of liquors will not be prohibited, except in public.

Search and seizure warrants may be issued only by judge of courts of record, wines for sacramental purposes may be manufactured and sold, and non-beverage liquors may be used in medicine, the arts and industry.

Beverage liquors beyond the authorized alcoholic percentage may not be manufactured or imported except by and for the private use of the diplomatic representatives of foreign countries in the United States. They may not be transported in interstate commerce.

HERO FALLS VICTIM GANG OF SWINDLERS

Boston, Mass., June 24.—The famous after-the-Civil-War swindle of passing worthless Confederate notes has just been worked in this city on a hero returning from the world war. Two $100 Confederate notes were passed together, making a very impressive looking bill. The bill was tendered the soldier to be changed. He accommodatingly gave $100 in United States notes in exchange. Upon finding that he had been swindled the man went to army headquarters and plain-clothes detectives were put on the trail of the swindlers.

PREMIER RESIGNS

Amsterdam, June 25.—Dr. Hirsch, premier of Prussia, has announced his resignation and other members of the Prussian cabinet are likely to follow his move, said a Berlin dispatch today. The Prussian diet is meeting today.

CLEVELAND POLICE THINK THEY ARE ON TRAIL OF ROBBERS

Cleveland, June 25.—Police believed today that they were on the way to a solution of the West Cleveland bank robbery in which five men made way with $65,000 ten days ago.

The first arrest in the case was made early today in Toledo. A man under surveillance there for several days was arrested by Toledo police on a John Doe warrant provided by the local department. Cleveland officers immediately took charge of the suspect, bringing him here in an automobile.

Tentative identification by bank employees was made when Bertillon photographs of the suspect were shown them prior to the arrest. All of the witnesses of the robbery will be called upon today to confirm the identification.

WINNIPEG STRIKE TO END THURSDAY

Winnipeg, Man., June 25.—Exactly six weeks from the date of its beginning the Winnipeg general strike will come to an end. Leaders of the strike have ordered the men to return to work tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The strike became effective at 11 o'clock on the morning of May 15.

The decision to call off the strike was reached after several weeks of mediation and was the result of an agreement between the strikers and officials of the provincial government whereby the government will appoint a commission to investigate into the strike and settle the disputes.

With the issuing of the order calling off the strike, industries today are preparing to re-open on a full scale and hundreds of men who have not worked for six weeks are preparing to return to their jobs.

Among the problems to be settled as a result of the strike is the question of the standing of policemen who were discharged by the city for refusing to sign a pledge not to join in any sympathetic strike. It is expected that labor will demand these policemen be restored to duty. Winnipeg has been policed for more than a month by returned soldiers and special constables.

ALLIES AND THE BOLSHEVICS ENGAGE IN A HEAVY BATTLE

London, June 25.—A heavy fluctuating battle is progressing in the Shunga district of the Archangel front said a Reuter dispatch from Kem today.

On Sunday the allies attacked and forced the Bolsheviks to fall back six miles. The Bolsheviks stopped the allied advance by setting fire to a wood through which their route lay.

MUST WEAR STOCKIES.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 25.—Under new orders issued by Director Bossert, of the Beach patrol, the police chased from the sands several bathing beauties who were enjoying a dip minus their stockings. Bossert gave orders that hereafter bathing suits must be higher fore and aft and every fair bather must wear hosiery.

"PRESIDENT OF IRISH REPUBLIC" HERE WITH SECRETARY.

The fact that Eamon De Valera, "President of the Irish Republic" and noted Sinn Fein leader, has been in this country for several days was made known in New York recently by Harry J. Boland, secretary to De Valera. Boland declared he accompanied De Valera on his secret trip to this country. He said De Valera in his first American public appearance would plead for the aid of the American people in Ireland's fight for self-determination.

OLD GUARD OF OHIO TEACHERS FIGHT TO RETAIN CONTROL

Cedar Point, O., June 25.—Fighting bitterly to retain control of the organization, the "Old Guard" of the Ohio State Teachers Association meeting here today strongly backed F. P. Pearson, of Columbus, state superintendent of instruction, for the presidency.

The "Independents" drawing their strength largely from the younger element were just as strongly backing Wilkins Hawkins, superintendent of the Canton schools. W. H. Kirk, superintendent of the East Cleveland schools is also an avowed candidate and is supported by some of the progressives.

A. C. Eldridge assistant superintendent of the Cleveland schools is now president. The election will take place tonight with 1500 teachers, a record number, taking part.

INTERCEPT TELEGRAM WHICH STATES THAT HUNS WILL DECLARE NEW WAR

Paris, June 25.—A German telegram intercepted by the Polish command, and whose contents were revealed today, contains information regarding a plot to proclaim a new war in the east against the Poles with the tacit consent of the present German government.

The telegram was received at Posen last Saturday. It declares that Germany will sign the peace treaty,

BOSTON PREPARES FOR RIOTS

Boston, Mass., June 25.—Machine guns were reported to be in every Boston police station in anticipation of possible radical demonstrations. Every policeman in Boston was on duty or held in readiness.

Warning that radical demonstrations were planned for today came from the secret service in Washington.

That the radical demonstrations expected were not restricted to Boston was evidenced in similar warnings which were sent to Governor Bartlett of New Hampshire, who received the following telegram from the secret service in Washington:

"The chief of the United States secret service bureau was ordered to notify the governor and his officers that the department expects bomb trouble tomorrow, June 25."

"Does not know whether it is to be in larger cities or scattered. Care should be taken in opening all packages received through the mail."

Precautions were taken to protect the court house at Pemberton square and the state house guards were on duty all around the buildings.

What looked like a bomb was found this forenoon in the boiler room of the state mutual building and turned over to Supt. of Police Crowley. It will be examined by State Chemist Wedger. The supposed bomb looked like two giant cannon crackers and was tied together with wire. It was wrapped in brown paper and addressed to the State Mutual Building.

SAYS ADMIRALTY NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR SINKING SHIPS

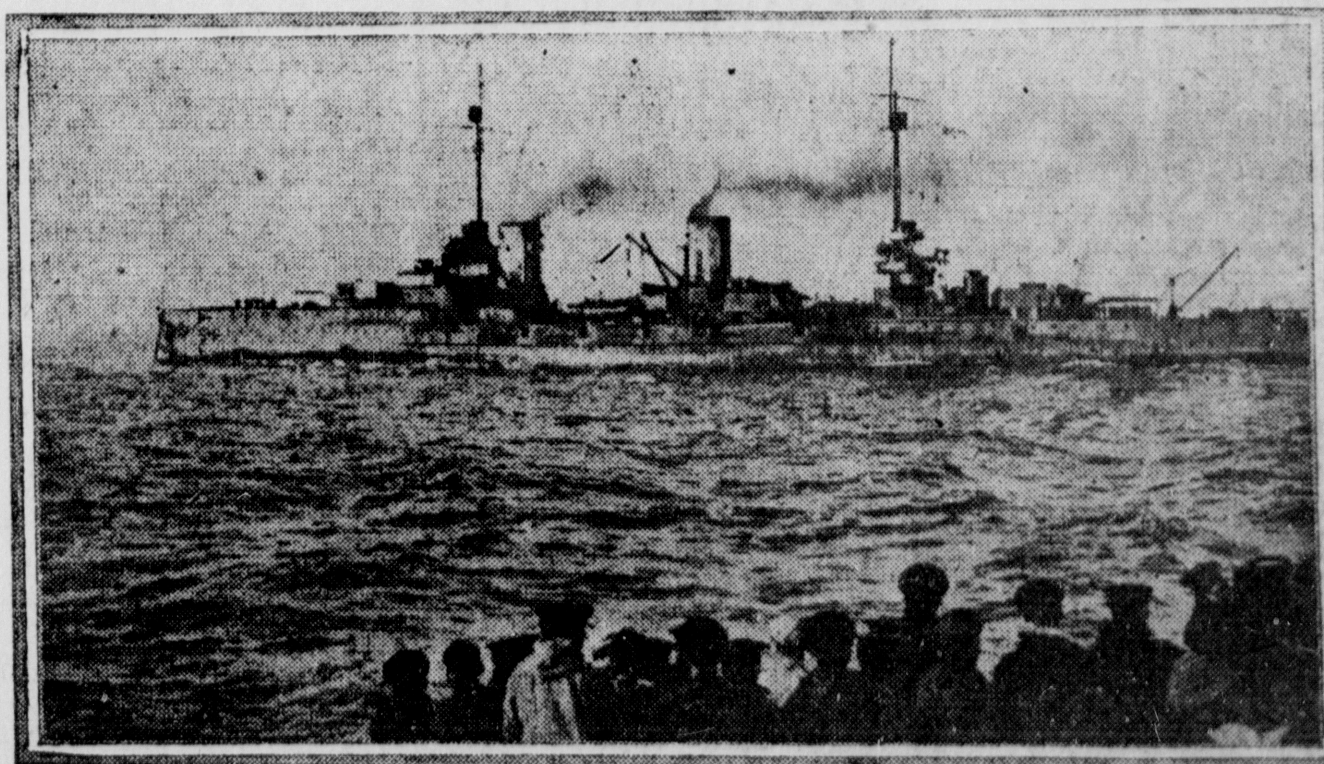

London, June 25.—Speaking before an assembly at the hotel Carlton, Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty today denied that the admiralty was responsible for the scuttling of the German fleet off Scapa Flow.

"If the Germans meant to do it, we couldn't prevent it," he said. "The allies were determined on a policy of internment instead of surrender. But we need not trouble ourselves with the matter. Premier Lloyd George will deal with it at Paris."

The first lord defended Admiral Wemyss against his critics.

The German crews of the scuttled warships who were placed under arrest at Scapa, arrived at Oswestry, in England today under guard of British soldiers. They were housed by a crowd of women. Admiral Von Reuter, who commanded the German fleet, is under close arrest.

GERMAN CREWS SCUTTLE INTERNED WAR VESSELS AT SCAPA FLOW.

German warships scuttled at Scapa Flow.

The German dreadnought Von Der Tann, one of the interned war vessels scuttled by its German crew while at Scapa Flow, off the coast of Scotland, under British guard. On an order by Admiral Von Reuter, commander of the surrendered fleet, the seacocks of the interned armada were opened and seventy-one vessels, comprising a fleet more powerful than the entire French Navy and almost equal to Japan's, went to the bottom. Four hundred thousand tons, valued at approximately $350,000,000, disappeared. It was the most remarkable naval destruction in history. The photograph of the Von Der Tann was made at the time the German fleet was surrendered to the Allied Powers at Harwich, England.

CHINESE YOUTH CARES NOTHING FOR THE TRUTH

Chicago, June 25.—If a Chinese lad told you that he was born in San Francisco, but that his mother had never been outside of China, it would jolt you just a little bit, wouldn't it?

Well, then consider how Judge Page felt when Goon Gow, whom the government is seeking to deport, deposed to the court and said:

"I was born in San Francisco. My mother is still in China. She has never been in this country."

"How singularly original," murmured the court, "please explain."

"Well, you see," Goon Gow began, "my father went back to China and

"Left you to be born in San Francisco," interjected the judge.

"Exactly," said the veracious Goon Gow.

And Goon Gow had two witnesses in court to prove they had been present in San Francisco at his birth.

SENATOR OWEN IS BOOMED FOR PRESIDENT

Washington, June 24.—Another presidential boom came to light today. Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, is the latest favorite son to be honored with a movement to gain for him the democratic nomination in 1920. Members of congress were apprised today for the formation of Owen clubs in Oklahoma and support of Democratic members of congress from the southwest was sought.

News of the definite movement in Oklahoma came as a surprise to Senator Owen, who admitted he was at least pleased with such an expression of confidence. He said, however, that he had lent no impetus to the movement and refused to say whether he would do so.

It has been reported in capital circles for some time that Senator Owen has presidential ambitions.

Billions of Lead Pencils

The world's product of lead pencils probably amounts to nearly two thousand millions a year, half of which are made from American-grown cedar. The United States makes about 750,000,000 a year, or more than eight pencils for each of its inhabitants.

PLEASANT EVENING ENJOYED AT HOME OF MRS. MARY MEREDITH

Members of the Xenia Womans' Club, and husbands of the married members of the club, enjoyed an evening of rare pleasure Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Mary Munger Meredith, where they were invited to hear a piano program rendered by her brother, Prof. Edmund Munger of the Jacksonville, Ill., University.

Mr. Munger's mastery of the delicate instrument, his exquisite touch, marvelous technique and great gift of memory, gave the keenest enjoyment to the music lovers who had the privilege of hearing this artist.

He played a number of Chopin's compositions, some by Debussy, and other works of the classical writers, and for nearly two hours remained at the instrument. He preceded each number by giving a little sketch or explanation of it. Mr. Munger's wonderful familiarity with works of the classical composers was shown by the fact that he played at will from memory, any of the compositions which he was requested to play by his audience. Mr. Munger told his hearers that he would play any number they wished to hear, if they would name it.

Mr. Munger, who has been spending about two weeks in Xenia, left the city Wednesday morning for the West.

USE AIRPLANE TO GIVE WARNING OF A FOREST FIRE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 25.—The use of an airplane to sound a warning in case of a fire in the national forest reserves was given its first practical demonstration in Southern California recently, when Supervisor Charlton was notified of a fire near Beaumont within thirty-eight minutes after the fire started. The distance is more than 100 miles.

The air patrol, after locating the fire, dropped a message at the town of Banning, eight miles from the scene of the fire. Thirty-eight minutes later Supervisor Charlton had started a force of men to the scene of the fire. The blaze was soon under control.

LESTER ARNOLD IS INVITED TO BANQUET

Lester Arnold, who was one of the persons chiefly interested in the establishment of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, has received from George A. Stulz, of Dayton, president of the Association of ex-Pupils of the institution, an invitation to attend the banquet to be held at the Home the evening of July 2, in connection with the thirty-ninth reunion, and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the institution. Mr. Arnold will accept the invitation, and expects to be present.

Totems.

Among the Indians of North America, a natural object, usually an animal, was used as the token, or emblem of a clan or family, and a representation of which served as a cognizance for each member of it, hence, a more or less similar observance and usage among other uncivilized peoples. The representation of the totem borne by an individual was often painted or figured in some way upon the skin itself, and upon his different garments and utensils. The totem was also, in a sense, an idol or the embodied form of a deity or demon, or at least had a religious significance. The word is often used attributively, as in totem clan, totem kin and totem

DR. A. C. MESSENGER BUYS DREES HOME

Dr. A. C. Messenger will become the owner of the Drees-Nesbitt homestead on West Second street, by the terms of a contract which has been made between him and the Drees and Nesbitt heirs.

The house is now a two apartment dwelling, and it will be allowed to remain so at least until next spring, when Dr. Messenger may consider converting it into four apartments. The house is one of the most substantial homes in Xenia. It was built by the late Tobias Drees, as a home for his family, and was constructed with great care, having hardwood floors throughout, and all its fittings being the best then obtainable. The house is built of brick.

COSTS $100 TO WIN THIN DIME

Kansas City, Mo., June 25.—It cost H. L. Tarbet, a taxi-cab driver, $100 to win a ten cent cigar. Tarbet and Slim Sanford, employed by the same firm, made the bet. The two started for the Union Station.

They passed Officer Joseph Damico, driving a car on his way to work. He started in pursuit of the two cars as they sped by him. When the taxi-cabs arrived at the station Tarbet was first. "You win," said Sanford.

In police court, Judge Edward Fleming heard the story. "You lose," he said to the two men. "It will cost you each just $100 for the little gasoline classic you staged yesterday."

MEN IN KANSAS STORES HELP IN WHEAT HARVEST

Salina, Kan., June 25.—Business men of Salina have made plans to release their employes for work in the harvest fields, which will start shortly. According to a letter to the Chamber of Commerce from E. E. Frizell, state farm labor agent, all wheat must be cut within 15 days. Any left uncut after that will be lost.

Many firms throughout the state, it is reported, will release their men for harvest work. Other firms will have women do as much work as they can in their places.

Some towns will send out men in the late afternoon and early evening to harvest near the town to help save the crop.

Housebreaker's Guide.

A lady who lived alone had taken into her service a young girl from the country. One day both mistress and maid were going out, and in such circumstances it was usual for the key of the back door to be hidden in the garden. The hiding place had been pointed out to the girl, and when she went out she was careful to secrete the key in the place indicated, but she plumed on the door a piece of paper on which she had written, "Shall be back soon. Key under the flower-pot on the window ledge."

PROHIBS ASSAIL WILSON BECAUSE OF WET REQUEST

Columbus, O., June 25.—The Prohibition party is not ready to disband until victory is won, declared Ohio leaders of the party here last night at a meeting preliminary to tomorrow's 50th anniversary celebration.

"Getting prohibition into the constitution, state and nation, amounts merely to signing of the armistice, it was asserted.

"The battle won't be over until the Prohibition party has John Barleycorn's signature to the peace treaty, speakers declared.

"It may be our party yet will have to come into power in order to get law enforcement," said Prescott E. Gillilan, state chairman.

"We've got to give our dollars and our efforts and organize and campaign as never before," asserted John H. Ferguson, Delaware, member of the state central committee. "As long as we have a president that is asking for return to beer and light wines, as long as we have a state legislature in a deadlocked grapple with the bulldog, as Ohio's assembly has been, we've got to stay on the job. We're not ready yet to send our money to Australia; our fight isn't won at home."

One speaker condemned near-beer dispensaries as a menace.

The celebration will end with a funeral sermon tomorrow night by Clinton N. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., on "A Joyride to the Grave."

Good Criticism.

Theodore Dreiser is a novelist of repute, but his novels are apt to be very long—700 or 800 pages, in fact. "There are sermons in stones," Mr. Dreiser said at a Greenwich village tea, whereupon a young lady sculptor interrupted him. "Yes, that is very true," she said; "but you ought to remember that the precious stones are all small, and at that they require a lot of cutting."

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE COMING TO AMERICA

London, June 25.—Germany having agreed to sign the peace treaty, final preparations are now being made for the flight to America of the giant British dirigible R-34.

It was said at the air ministry today that it is possible the big balloon will leave the British Isles the first week of July, her schedule being so arranged as to fix her arrival in the United States on July 4.

Travel is Expensive.

CHAUTAUQUA TO BE IN XENIA WEEK JULY 28 TO AUG. 3

Although Xenia people are not backing a Chautauqua for this city this year, Xenia will not be without one as the Redpath people who have been coming to this city for several years, will back their own Chautauqua here this summer.

The Chautauqua is to be held July 28 to August 3, inclusive and A. D. Horton, of Eastern Ohio is to be the platform manager this year. The series of morning hour lectures is to be given by T. C. Blaisdell, of the Pennsylvania State College.

Again this season the juvenile feature of the Chautauqua is to be maintained. Miss Lenore Murray, of the Columbia College of Expression in Chicago, is to be in charge, and morning and afternoon after the first day, boys and girls will be entertained at the Chautauqua grounds with stories and games.

Among the most interesting features of Chautauqua week announced to date are a cast of ten in "The Melting Pot" on July 30 and a cast of twenty-five in "The Chocolate Soldier" on August 1. Captain Paul Bewsher, of the British Air Force, is another Chautauqua week star, and is to be heard in Xenia August 3. This is to be his first appearance on the American platform, although he has spoken extensively for the British government.

RECRUITING OFFICERS ARE COMING TO XENIA

Lieutenant Banker and five men from the Army Recruiting Station, 612 Vine Street, Cincinnati, will be in this city on recruiting duty from July 3 to July 5th, according to information sent here by Col. John H. Street, Cincinnati recruiting officer. The lieutenant and five men are starting on a 30 day tour on June 26th, through the Cincinnati recruit district in which Xenia is included. The party will go to Middletown, Miamisburg, Xenia, Hillsboro, Greenfield, Jackson, Wellston and Gallipolis, ending up on July 25 at the latter place.

All branches of the service are now open to men between the ages of 18 and 40 and it is expected that the recruiting officers will secure quite a few enlistments when they work this city July 3 to 5.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MISS FLORENCE WOOD

Miss Florence Wood was reminded that Sunday was her birthday by about twenty of her friends at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harvey in New Burlington. The crowd came with well filled baskets and at twelve-thirty a delicious dinner was served. Those present to help Miss Wood enjoy the day were: Mrs. Horace Wharton and son, Orville, Mrs. Chris Vickers and four children, Kenneth, Margaret, Ruth and Donald, and Miss Bea Ashwood all of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. McFarland and three daughters, Alice, Mary and Winifred, and son Ralph of Grape Grove; Mr. and Mrs. George Humble, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Wood, Mrs. Wm. Cheno-weth, Mrs. Lester Hurley, Harry Wood, Albert Cheno-weth, Francis Hosier, Harry Hosier and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harvey.

THEATERS

Bijou.

The kind of interesting and true-to-life story that has made the career of Ethel Clayton in motion pictures famous, is the sort that she plays the lead in at the Bijou theater Thursday matinee and night. The picture is a Paramount production "Pettigrew's Girl," and is a charming little story in which she is supported by Monte Glue.

As a chorus girl, Miss Clayton is about to marry a man for his money when she is impressed by the earnest love making of a young soldier, an awkward private in the army who is about to sail for France. The story thus works to an unusual and happy climax. James Mason, Charles Gerard and Clara Whipple are in the support.

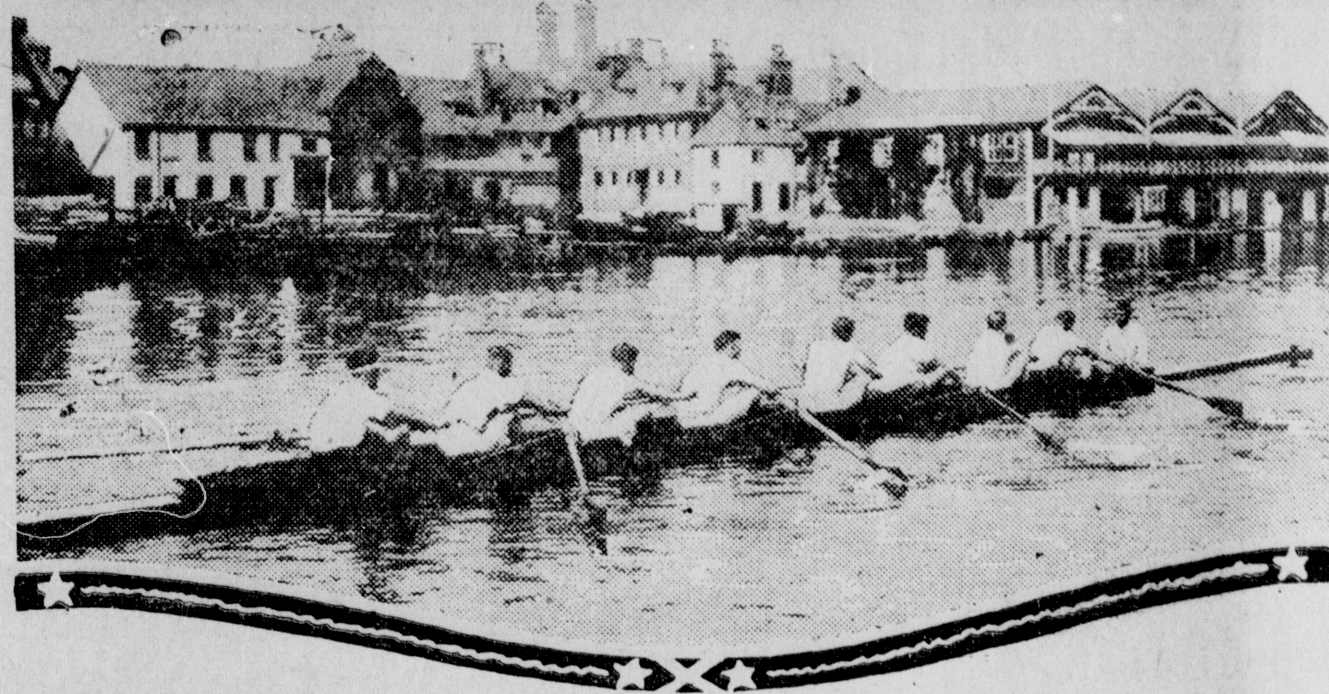

Orphium.

Pretty Mae Murray who is now with the Universal forces appears as the heroine in a new release "What Am I Bid?" which appears at the Orphium Theater Thursday.

Miss Murray's success in the picture has been unlimited recently, but she has accomplished much more in the way of photoplay acting in this new production. The story introduces in its plot an old law of the North woods, whereby anyone likely to corrupt public morals is placed on the block like any chattel. Misconstruing the humane effort of the girl, the townspeople put her on the block. Miss Murray is supported by Richard Cummings and others.

DRIVE ON PRAIRIE DOGS.
El Reno, Okla., June 23.—A "drive" in earnest against prairie dogs in western Oklahoma is due to begin about July 1, according to B. J. Melton, of the United States Biological Survey who made a survey in this section of the State. A bill was passed by the last legislature making it compulsory on all farmers to destroy the prairie dogs after July 1. In case they do not do so the sheriff is authorized to hire assistants to do the work and charge the expense up to farm owners.

BREAD RIOTS ARE FORECAST UNLESS FOOD IS RELEASED

Washington, June 25.—Representative Benjamin F. Welty of Ohio, has written a letter to Attorney General Palmer advising him to institute suits against the monopolies which, he believes, are holding up the cost of living.

He enclosed a telegram from Albert Krell of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce predicting bread riots unless something is done to relieve the situation. In his letter he says: "A few weeks ago Representative Fitzgerald of Massachusetts stated on the floor of the House that the United Fruit Company had a monopoly on the sale of all bananas and fruits and were able to earn, because of this exclusive monopoly, $40 per share on their stock even though about a third of it is watered stock. It seems that this company is no longer a trust, but has grown to a monopoly."

"A few days ago Representative Fess of Ohio, read figures on the floor of the House from the Bureau of Markets showing that the meat packers had almost a billion and a half pounds of meat in cold storage, presumably for no other purpose than to keep up the prices."

"These facts are, no doubt startling and justify the assumption in the enclosed telegram that there will be bread riots if no relief is granted."

"I was hoping that the war had brought on a condition in this country when the antitrust statutes would no longer have to be enforced and that the corporations enjoying a monopoly had at least become sane and were willing to live and let live. Dr. Fess suggested to the House the passage of a 'persuasive' resolution, which may be good advice to a sewing circle, but I doubt if the boys who fought for freedom and now must go hungry because of these prices will accept such advice as timely."

"I keenly realize that the Department of Justice is handicapped because of the failure of the Supreme court to finally pass on cases which had been on the docket since 1912, but would it not be well for your department to institute new cases against these monopolies before the matter will be disposed of by the people in a summary manner, as indicated in the enclosed telegram?"

"I further realize that the Attorney General and prosecuting officers of the several States should relieve you of much of this burden prosecuting these cases under State anti-trust statutes but it seems that many of them seemingly either do not know of such a statute or they are like Nero, of old, fiddling and drawing their salaries while the country is on its way to destruction because of this phase of selfishness."

PONY SIZE OF HARE.

Pechin, Pa., June 24.—Robert Brown claims to own the smallest pony colt in the world. It is ten weeks old, a little larger than a Belgian hare and almost as spry. The colt is as affectionate as a puppy and likes to crawl up on its owner's lap whenever he is sitting.

BILL KUNTZ HAS GOOD ALIBI FOR NOT SHOWING UP

And now comes Bill Kuntz, popular Springfield pitcher who has been hurling for the Reserves and incidentally has won every game he pitched here, with a perfectly good alibi for his non-appearance here for the game last Sunday.

Kuntz and Harry Johns, who has been playing left field for the Springfield White Sox and who annexed five hits in five trips here two weeks ago, were in an automobile accident on their way to this city by motor last Sunday and were forced to return to Springfield. In expressing his disappointment to Manager Foley in not being able to be present, Bill sent a newspaper clipping of the accident.

The two ball players narrowly escaped serious injury when, in turning out around a stalled machine on the road a half-mile south of Springfield, another machine shot between the two, forcing Johns, who was driving to turn into the ditch where the machine turned over. Johns was pinned beneath the steering wheel and was taken from the wreck in an unconscious condition. Smiling Bill Kuntz sustained cuts when the windshield was shattered but he was not seriously injured. Both men returned to Springfield.

In expressing his disappointment to the local management, the big hurler said that he would be in condition to play next Sunday and offered his services. He will probably be on hand for the clash on next Sunday.

Not to Be Thought Of.

Jamie was asking his mother a lot of silly questions, such as, "Why are your eyes blue?" His mother said, "Why do you ask such silly questions when I am trying to read?" "Well," responded Jamie, "do you want your little boy to grow up without a vocabulary in his mind?"

Average Weight of Horse.
The average weight of a mature farm horse for the United States is 1,203 pounds. Washington, the most northwestern state of the Union, has the highest state average, 1,350 pounds, seconded by Maine, the most northeastern state, with 1,325 pounds. Lightest-weight horses are found in Florida, the most southeastern state, with an average weight of 850 pounds. Mature mules on farms of the United States average 956 pounds. Washington again leads, with 1,110 pounds, followed by Oregon, with 1,100 pounds. Lightest mules are found in Missis-

MEDICINES USED BY MONKS

It is claimed that Monks of ancient days knew of more than three hundred species of medicinal plants used in general for medicines by these religious orders. While centuries have passed, with all the advance made in medical science, many of our most successful remedies are today made from the roots and herbs of the field, like that good, old-fashioned remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which for more than forty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ills, and is now considered the standard remedy.

PARTY OF GIRLS TO SPEND WEEK AT STEWART BUNGALOW

A party of young girls consisting of Misses Matilda Bailey, Florence Chew, Pauline Sutton and Ruth Charters have rented the summer bungalow on the Stewart farm north of Xenia, for a week, and with their chaperon, Mrs. D. D. Dodds and the latter's children, Grace, William and Florence, went out Wednesday afternoon to occupy the house. The girls are planning for a very gay time during the week, and one evening they will entertain their parents, who expect to go out and take picnic supper with the camping party. "Camp Osoocoy" is the name the girls have given to their outing place.

ELIHU ROOT TO THE RESCUE

Ex-Senator Elihu Root has come to the rescue of his former colleagues in the Senate and has devised for them a way out of the dilemma in which they find themselves in the matter of the peace treaty and the league of nations not yet officially before them. The publication of his letter to Senator Lodge may be considered as the preliminary step in the surrender which the Senate opponents of the league of nations must now recognize to be inevitable, and they apparently see in the project outlined by the astute Mr. Root a method by which they cannot only save their own face but at the same time save the Republican party, in part, at least, from the embarrassments caused by their ill-considered course of action.

So imperative does the country regard the early completion of the peace and the establishment of some sort of a league of nations to stand in the way of another world war, that there will be a general disposition to regard with approval Mr. Root's plan of a ratification with reservations and explanations as an adroit way of meeting criticisms of certain details of the league project, without destroying it, or putting the United States in the position of delaying the peace, or of parting company with our comrades in arms.

Mr. Root sees the impossibility of the present position of the Senate, and he rightfully foresees the impossibility of the passage of the Knox resolution. And he recognizes the supreme importance to the world of the principle underlying the league-of-nations project and the peril of rejecting the opportunity of attaining the ends the league is designed to serve. The American conscience and common sense will be in hearty accord with him in the deeply significant passage of his letter to Mr. Lodge, wherein he warns against a flat rejection by the Senate. He says:

On the other hand, it still remains that there is in the covenant a great deal of high value which the world ought not to lose. The arrangement to make conferences of the powers automatic when there is danger of war; provisions for joint action, as of course by representatives of the nations concerned in matters affecting common interests; the agreement for delay in case of serious disputes, with opportunity to bring the public opinion of the world to bear on the disputants, and to induce cool and deliberate judgment; the recognition of racial and popular rights to the freedom of local self-government, and the plan, indispensable in some form, for summing up governments in the vast regions deprived by the war of the autocratic rule which had maintained order—all these ought not to be lost, if that can possibly be avoided.

It is a pity the Senate majority did not take counsel with Mr. Root before instead of after it had committed itself to so blundering a policy on the league of nations. But now that saner counsels have been given, pointing the way to a course of action which will appeal to the common sense of the country, it is to be hoped that no further palaver will be permitted to interfere with action on the treaty that will be consistent with the honor and dignity of the United States and that will contribute to the cementing of the blood-brotherhood of the nations which were banded together to save civilization and uphold the freedom of mankind.

THINKS BEER MADE THE GERMANS BRUTAL.

The experience of university students who drank beer steadily for a whole day and did not get drunk is especially interesting in the light of a recent magazine article by a Harvard professor. This professor is seeking a reasonable explanation of the cruelty of the German people, a cruelty that seems to be innate, since it has shown itself not only in the treatment of the Belgians, French and other victims, but in the treatment the people accord to each other.

We have abundant testimony of the cruelty of the army officers to their men and of the men to one another, and the high per cent of suicides among German adults and children seems ample proof of cruelty, or cruel misunderstanding in schools and families.

This Harvard professor, in quest of the cause of this national cruelty, suggests that it may be found in beer. It is an accepted fact that the persistent use of alcohol destroys the moral sense. Drunkards, as the jail records show, abuse their wives, beat their children, sell their votes, lie, steal and even murder, with a total insensibility to the sufferings of their victims. This insensibility, singularly enough, often goes hand in hand with a maudlin emotionalism which weeps over the fate that forces the cruelties.

Now beer, as the university students have demonstrated, may not make a man really drunk, but taken day after day as a steady beverage it must eventually alcoholize the bodily tissues. Drugs in small doses, often repeated, saturate the system more completely than large doses at long intervals; and a man whose only drink is beer will become more thoroughly alcoholized than the man who occasionally gets very drunk on whisky.

In Germany beer is drunk all day and every day, by both men and women, even children drink it freely, and it is no unusual sight in a beer garden to see babies given sips of the national beverage from steins or nursing-bottles.

The amount of alcohol in one glass of beer may be small, but many glasses every day, drunk by everybody for several generations, can hardly fail to produce an alcoholized race; and as the alcoholized individual loses his moral sense and becomes treacherous and cruel, so a nation made up of alcoholized individuals must of necessity become cruel and devoid of moral sense.

The analogy of the alcoholized race to the alcoholized individual is shown further in the maudlin emotionalism which in a typical instance impelled the Kaiser to weep over the sufferings of Louvain, even while he caused them, and which led the German envoys to Versailles to shed copious tears over the devastated plains of France, while denying their responsibility for the devastation. It is possible also, as in the case of the alcoholized individual, that the destruction of the racial moral sense may be a certain twist of the logical sense, a twist that has prevented the Germans as a whole from seeing any side of a question but the one that is favorable to themselves, and even from seeing that there can be any other side.

If we agree with this Harvard professor that by reason of excessive beer-drinking Germany has become an alcoholized race, her mental and moral twists become comprehensible.

First Lieutenant, Company G,
118th Infantry.

For conspicuous bravery after being wounded near Montreuil, France, October 8, 1918, Lieut. Dozier was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. In command of two platoons, Lieut. Dozier was painfully wounded in the shoulder early in the attack, but he continued to lead his men, displaying the highest bravery and skill. When his command was held up by heavy machine gun fire, he disposed his men in the best cover available and with a soldier continued forward to attack a machine gun nest. Creeping up to the position in the face of intense fire, he killed the entire crew with hand grenades and his pistol, and a little later captured a number of Germans who had taken refuge in a dugout near by. Lieut. Dozier's home is with his father, John H. Dozier, 524 Asnafral street, Rock Hill, S. C.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

NEIL HAS THE OFFER OF TWO POSITIONS.

CHAPTER CXXIII.

After Mr. Frederick left I tidied up. Neil insisting upon drying the dishes. Then we sat in the living room, talking of our guest, his kindness and the feeling of security he had left behind as far as the immediate future was concerned.

Neil had told him—in reply to his questions—that it had taken every cent we had in the world to pay our debts. We were poorer than when as boy and girl we started out together. We had worn our clothes until now I was really shabby, although I had insisted that Neil be properly dressed because of his position. We lived in a rented house, not even owning the furniture. We were both over thirty years old, and save for his unhappy experiences Neil had nothing to show for the years of hard work. When I thought of this I wondered that he was as cheerful as he was; that he did not more often give way to discouragement.

"What are you going to do now? Still live out here?" Mr. Frederick asked.

"Yes, Bab likes it, it is good for Robert, and we can live more cheaply. Quite a consideration."

"Have you decided what you will do?" I looked in amazement from one to the other. Was Neil to lose his place with Frederick? I was soon enlightened. Mr. Frederick had seen my look of surprise, and added: "Hasn't he told you, Barbara? Chase has offered him a fine position, at a much larger salary than the position with me warrants. My resources have been pretty well drained, and my western interests have suffered by my long absence—he was one of the government's dollar a year men—I should like to meet Chase's figures, but can't."

"Yes, I have decided. I said nothing to Bab, because there was nothing to say. I shall remain with you as long as you can find a place for me."

"Thank you, Forbes. I never needed faithful service as I do now. Such service may mean the saving of my fortune—what is left, and my business. I know of no one else whom I could leave in charge. I shall have to depend entirely upon you for this eastern end, as I have during the war. My time must be spent on the coast. I am almost ashamed to offer you the salary I have decided I can pay at the present. It's mighty little, considering how you have slaved for me the past two years."

"Not entirely for you," Neil smilingly replied. "Uncle Sam was my employer, too, and he urged me on, you know."

"Can you live on five thousand a year for a time until I can get my affairs back on a paying basis?—paying for me." He looked from one to the other of us, as if I too, might have something to say.

"I both can and will. And, Mr. Frederick, I never have been able to tell you one half of how grateful I am to you, to express my feelings for what you have done for us. I am not going to try now. But if you had offered me one thousand I should have taken it and remained with you."

"I believe it, Forbes. Although you aren't being quite fair to yourself in sticking to me. Chase offered him ten thousand, Barbara."

I gasped. Anton Chase was one of the big manufacturers of the country. That he had offered Neil, a man who had been accused of being dishonest only a few years before, a position of trust proved how thoroughly Neil had rehabilitated himself in the business world. That he had said nothing to me of the offer proved how truly he recognized the help Frederick had given him, and his determination to prove his gratitude.

"Aren't you proud of your husband?" he continued lightly, the situation was becoming tense with feeling. "I should be if I were in your place. But you must talk it over with him, Barbara. It will mean quite a difference to you as well as to him," he added, without giving me time to reply to his question.

"Indeed I am proud of him. And I need no time to talk it over. He has done exactly right in every particular. We shall feel very wealthy now with the salary you offer, because it will be all ours to use as we please. We don't owe a penny, and so can begin to live riotously."

"You are a real wife, Barbara. If more men married women like you there would be fewer divorces; fewer unhappy homes. God bless you both," he finished, solemnly for him, then said goodbye, leaving my cheeks still burning because of his compliment.

"Frederick is right, Bab. You are a true helpmeet," Neil said when we could no longer see Mr. Frederick or his car.

BELLBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. William Haney of the Bellbrook Fresh Air Farm, wish to announce a pound party at their home on the farm, Thursday June 26. The object of the party is to raise provisions for the hundreds of poor children from the city, who will be cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Haney during the summer. The invitation is not confined to any particular neighborhood or locality, but it is to all. Let everyone who possibly can do so come with at least one pound and as much more as they can afford or care to bring. Arrangements have been made to receive offerings from the ones who cannot attend, at the local telephone exchange, the parties in charge being desirous that all donations be turned in not later than June 25.

Harry Myers, of Belmont, was in the village on business one day of the past week.

Florence Myers is filling Zeva Morris' place at the Bell telephone exchange during Miss Morris' absence.

Visitors in the village Saturday and Sunday were: James Turner and family, of Springfield; Mayor William Fulkerson, wife and son, of Spring Valley; Dr. and Mrs. Ritenour, John Harness and family, James Finley Gynn Edwards, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Myers of Belmont.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest, excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind, vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery, to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance, to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the greatest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is now at all expensive. Sayre & Hemphill and all other druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

GOING DOWN HILL OF ILL HEALTH VERY RAPIDLY

But Her Downward Progress
Was Stopped By a Single Bottle of Nerv-Worth.

This remarkable statement was made a short time ago to the Nerv-Worth druggist at Uniontown, Pa.:
Wade H. Guyton — For several years I have been in a very nervous condition. I did not have the nerve force to properly digest my food and it would ferment and gas formed in my stomach and so badly interfered with my heart-action that it would flutter and intermit. Was going down fast and losing strength and weight. Was very uneasy about my condition and could not sleep.
I purchased one bottle of Nerv-Worth from you and after using it as directed I am a changed woman. All the troubles mentioned have disappeared and am getting strength and weight and am happy to be able to make this statement. Nerv-Worth certainly is a wonderful medicine.
MRS. J. B. BOYCE,

Your dollar back at Sayre & Hemp-hill's, Xenia, if Nerv-Worth does not do for you what it did for Mrs. Boyce. W. F. Harper sells Nerv-Worth in Jamestown. adv

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It?

Sufferers Should Realize That
It Is a Blood Infection.

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered.

Science has proven that Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs, which infect your blood by the millions.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. For treatment of your individual case, address Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. 43, Atlanta, Ga.

AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY PREPARED FOR ANY EMERGENCY

One of the U. S. army divisions on review recently on plateau above Rhine near Fortress of Ehrenbreitstein.

This photo shows how the American army of occupation was kept in perfect condition to be ready at a moment's notice to invade Germany with the allied forces if Germany had not accepted the allied peace terms and agreed to sign. All of the U. S. troops in Germany are of the regular army. The drafted men are coming home by the thousands each month and all still overseas are located in camps in France.

MONEY SPENT IN WAR WOULD MAKE PARADISE OF COUNTRY FOR HUNDRED YEARS IF USED FOR PUBLIC GOOD

In a speech defending the League of Nations in the United States senate a few days ago Senator McCumber has some very interesting figures regarding the cost of the war to the United States and what could have been done with this sum of money if used to improve the country and benefit its inhabitants. He presented the figures in combating the argument that the United States should stay out of the League of Nations for the reason that this country is not concerned in the European affairs. In part he said:
"And again when I come to the present cost of this war to the principal nations engaged in it, I find that it aggregates little less than $200,000,000,000. It is an awful debt to load upon these impoverished countries. And yet with interest and pensions and other obligations, that two hundred billions will probably be increased to two thousand billions before the debt is wiped out and the last pension paid.
Senators, is such an impoverishment of the world as that no concern of ours?
In making this estimate of the cost of the war, we might yet add at least twenty-five billions for property destroyed. The British Empire lost in value of ships and shipping alone more than $4,500,000,000. The Allies alone lost 404 warships with a displacement of 1,364,000 tons. The enemy lost 216 warships with a displacement of 518,000 tons.
The Allies and neutrals lost in merchant tonnage 15,027,718 gross tons, of which Great Britain alone lost 8,889,659 tons. The tonnage lost to the world was 15,336,922 gross tons. Norway, a neutral country, a seafaring nation, the livelihood of whose people is gained in great part by braving the waves of the ocean, lost of her merchant marine 1,177,000 gross tons. She lost more tonnage than any country engaged in the war except Great Britain. Norway had committed no offense against Germany, and yet she was made to suffer in this war a greater loss in merchant marine than any belligerent except Great Britain. Is a war which results in such loss to a neutral friendly nation of no concern to us?

But you say we can continue a peaceful policy with the world, without binding ourselves to act in any particular way. Yes; that is exactly what we were saying for years prior to 1914, and especially prior to 1917. But we found that the world was not so large that we could escape being drawn into the vortex of a European conflagration. And while we scarcely got into the real conflict before its close, while not more than a quarter of a million American soldiers were on the actual battle line at any one time, it is safe to say that this war has cost the United States not less than $40,000,000,000. And before the principal and interest and pensions have been fully met, it is a conservative estimate that we shall have expended not less than $100,000,000,000. Have you contemplated what that means to us?
One of the most beautiful structures in the United States is our Public Library Building, facing Capitol Square. That building cost about $6,000,000, less than one-third the cost of a modern battleship. That beautiful structure, gladdening the hearts of millions of people, may last as long as the earth lasts. The battleship will become obsolete in 10 years. With just what money this single year of war will have cost us we could build in the United States 17,000 of these buildings, 350 of them in each State in the Union, one in each city, town and village. With this sum we could purchase all the flour at pre-war prices, our population, the American people, would consume in 154 years. The cost of one year of this war would pay all the expenses necessary to relieve all the distress, hunger, or sickness of all the people for a hundred years. It would save the lives annually of more than 100,000 invalids afflicted with the great white plague who are too poor to change their location or secure the rest necessary for their convalescence. The expenses of the four years of this great war could change this old world from a dingy workshop into a paradise for a whole century. Are European wars of no concern to us?"

HOW TO KEEP COOL

"If you want to keep cool practice moderation in eating and drinking."
"A light diet and abstinence from alcoholic beverage should be the rule."

"Fruits and vegetables are to be preferred to meats."

"Chew what you eat to a fine pulp; you won't want so much and your stomach won't have so much to do."

"Plenty of cool water, citrus drinks, such as lemonades, orangeades, have a very salutary effect upon the body tissues."

"A good night's sleep, preferably in the open air, is the best means of preparing for a hot day."

"Bathe daily."

"Wear light weight, light color clothing—see how the women are getting away with it. Equal rights for men."

"Fatigue, worry and anxiety should be avoided, and during the days of extreme heat physical effort should be reduced to a minimum."

"Don't worry; it will be hot just the same."

Concerning infant care Dr. Peters has this to say:

"Up to the present time the hot spell has not been responsible for any perceptible increases in the number of deaths in children under two years of age."

"Parents can do a great deal to overcome the effects of heat."

"Most children are overdressed. Heat rash usually means too much clothing and very often woolen clothing next to the skin."

"Bathing with tepid water, to which may be added a little baking soda, cools the skin, reduces irritation, induces sleep and increases resistance."

"Fresh air is the best comforter. Always keep the baby in the shade, however."

"Flies should be excluded as religiously as one would guard against a snake."

"The baby's food should be prepared with scrupulous care. Bottles and nipples and utensils should be sterilized by boiling and the hands of the attendant cleansed with soap and water before handling food."

"Parents assume a grave responsibility in treating their children. The safe rule is to have the advice of a physician. It is much easier to keep an infant well than cure it after it becomes ill."

One shrewd old farmer who had heard his first lecture on dietetics said if he'd known as much about feeding children as he did about raising for cows and hogs "his family'd have been a heap healthier folks."

CAUTION!

Watch Your Bread

During the hot summer months it is extremely important that your bread receive the most careful attention.

At this season of the year bread is surrounded with trouble of many kinds and unless care is used the waste is tremendous.

In the first place unwrap your bread as soon as it is received at home.

Buy only enough for your immediate need—DON'T OVERSTOCK.

Keep your bread box open and well aired.

To keep bread boxes sweet and clean wash frequently and dry in the sun.

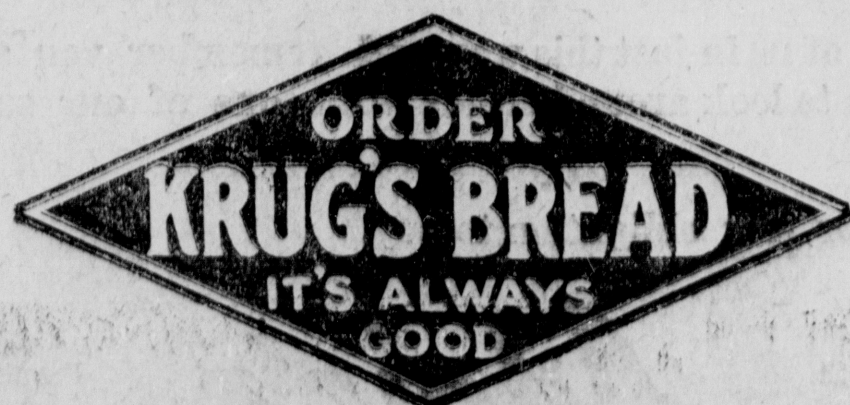

Use common sense in taking care of your bread as well as of all other food.

These precautions will assist you in guarding against mouldy and stale bread and—

Your family will be assured of tasty, appetizing bread at all times.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 23.—Uncle Sam has no iron bars at the Federal disciplinary barracks here to hold George Wilson, alias Claude Hoyt, alias Walter Merrill. At least his performances so indicate. Within a month George has made his escape twice from the barracks. He was captured the second time in Kansas City, Kansas, and charged with robbing a drug store. In the meantime Federal agents brought a charge of robbing mail boxes in Joliet, Ill., supposedly while he was enjoying his temporary freedom.

GIANT BRITISH DIRIGIBLE READY FOR ATLANTIC FLIGHT

British dirigible R-34, which will attempt trans-Atlantic flight. Close-up of one of three "gondolas" hung under bag, and Lieut. Col. Lucas, upper, and Major Fuller, who are in New York arranging for arrival in U. S. of dirigible.

Word that the British dirigible R-34 has started on its attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean to America from England is expected hourly. The giant dirigible is ready for the flight. According to recent reports the big ship may attempt to fly to the U. S. and back without landing in this country, as it can carry enough supplies to make the round trip. This type of dirigible originally was designed for bombing German cities. One interesting feature of the construction of the ship is a passageway through the gas bag by which the members of the crew can go from one of the suspended "gondolas" to another. A ladder leads up to the passageway from each bag. The ladder can be seen in the photo of one of the gondolas. The crew of the ship totals thirty-three men.

CORTEZ' HOUR OF TRIUMPH

Impressive Scene When the Spanish Adventurer Met Emperor Montezuma of Mexico.

On the morning of November 8, 1519, the Spaniards were on the causeway which was one of the three to connect Tenochtitlan with the mainland, and so wide that eight of the Spanish cavalry could ride abreast on it. On all sides, in the road and in canoes on the lake, a crowd of Aztecs gazed at the descendants of the god who had at last, as they believed, carried out his promise. At the entrance to the city they were greeted by 1,000 principal citizens with salutations and kissing of hands to the bare earth; and then, after crossing a drawbridge, they saw approaching in a gorgeous litter none other than the great Montezuma, escorted by 200 of his courtiers.

Never has there been a more impressive scene in the history of the American continent than this meeting between the emperor of all Mexico and the Spanish adventurer. The picturesque surroundings, the silver-towered city rising from the gleaming lake, the countless hosts of gayly dressed subjects watching in awed silence, the magnificence of Montezuma and his train, the bronze, war-worn yet fiery appearance of the Spaniards—all these seem like a page from the "Arabian Nights" rather than sober history. The Spaniards, we may be sure, realized they were living a romance of the first order, and their hearts beat high with triumph, as with swords clanking and horses prancing they advanced into this city of legend.—From "Mexico," by Louise S. Hasbrouck.

EAST END NEWS

The following letter was received from Mr. Walter Powers which will be of interest to his many friends. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Powers of 408 East Main street: London, Eng., 5-31-19.

My Dear Friend:
George Powers of 408 East Main street.
That you, as well as my other good friends may know why I am here and writing you this letter.

During a period when the majority of the A. E. F., particularly the troops stationed in the desolate, fought-over sections of France, was nearly frantic with despair, an order was issued that a specified number of officers and enlisted men, having made written application, would be permitted to attend French and British universities, on the condition that they have had at least two years college, or its equivalent, together with a good military record. Two thousand men were allotted to British universities, and of that number only nine (all enlisted men) are negroes. These men having matriculated in the following faculties: Arts and science, music, law and technology, are making a splendid showing for themselves, and are a credit to their race.

Now that we have been able to pierce that barrier of rudeness characteristic of the native Englishman, it is the consensus of opinion that the cordial hospitality exhibited here, as well as the democratic atmosphere prevalent throughout the United Kingdom, is unsurpassed anywhere. However, we are quite as unanimous in our desire to return home, and are rather impatiently awaiting orders. "roll your packs."

It is officially announced the entire student detachment will leave in a body July 1st, for Brest, where we will embark for home.

Yours for the cause,
First Sgt. Walter H. Powers,
Cosins Hotel, 126 Southampton Row,
W. C. I.

Mrs. Carrie C. Massie is confined to the bed with sciatic rheumatism. She is somewhat improved, but still quite ill.

Mrs. Alberta Scott has been compelled to take her bed because of a severe attack of congestion of the lungs. A child was born to them very recently and this makes her illness more regrettable.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson died at her home, 2506 South Rampart street, in New Orleans, at the age of 109 years. She was born two years before the war of 1812 on "Marse" Moses plantation in "Ole Virginy." She was one of the few surviving of the old type of ante-Bellum Negro "mammies." She leaves eleven grandchildren, one of whom is Dennis F. Woods, messenger for the United States District Court.

Sergt. Walter Powers of the U. S. Army, who is attending one of the Universities in London, will appear on Mr. Louis Cottell's evening concert program at South Place Institute, Finsbury, E. C., Wednesday evening, June 25th. Sergt. Powers is one of the 14 vocalists who will take part in the concert.

Rev. F. H. Higgins has his household goods packed to be moved to Mt. Vernon Ohio, Thursday, where he accepted the pastorate of Mt. Calvary Baptist church. He and his family will go tomorrow. We regret to see him go but are glad that he has been advanced.

SERVICES FOR DEAD TEACHER
ON THURSDAY

Dayton, June 25.—Funeral services for Rev. Edgar G. Bailey, 52, minister and educator, who died Tuesday morning following a prolonged illness and two weeks' confinement, will be conducted Thursday afternoon at the residence, 952 Manhattan avenue. Burial will be made at the home city of the Bailey family, Xenia in the Woodland cemetery.

Rev. Bailey came to Dayton more than 15 years ago as a minister of the United Presbyterian church. Shortly after his arrival he organized the Wayne Avenue United Presbyterian church and for more than seven years served as its pastor.

After resigning as pastor of the Wayne Avenue church he accepted a position as Latin instructor at Parker high school where he has served for the past seven years. He continued his duties at Parker high school until June 6, when the sickness which ended in his death caused his absence.

Rev. Bailey was born near Pittsburgh, Pa. He was a graduate of the Xenia Theological Seminary and for more than 20 years served as minister of the United Presbyterian church. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Sarah Kelso, of Xenia, two daughters, Miss Helen Bailey and Miss Emily Bailey, of Dayton, his mother who lives in Pennsylvania and several brothers and other relatives.

WINNER AND LOSER IN BATTLE WITH TREACHEROUS OCEAN WINDS SHAKE HANDS

Commander A. C. Read, right, shaking hands with Harry Hawker.

This picture might be labelled "victor and vanquished." Commander A. C. Read commanded the U. S. navy seaplane NC-4, the first plane to cross the Atlantic ocean. Harry Hawker attempted to beat the U. S. plane across by a dash from St. Johns, N. F., to Ireland, but failed. They were snapped exchanging greetings at the aviation field at Hendon, outside of London, after the arrival of the NC-4 at Plymouth, England.

When Actresses Were Unknown.

In ancient times actresses were unknown. The people of Elizabethan times were perfectly content to stand for a young male Juliet. Around about 1550, though, Charles II of England began encouraging women to appear on the English stage, and since then actresses have been appearing all over the world with varying degrees of success.

The piece of eight was the old Spanish plaster or peso, now called a dollar, thus known throughout the Spanish Main in the days of piracy, because it was divided into eight reals. It was a silver coin worth $1.

AMERICAN ARMORED CAR READY FOR DASH INTO MEXICO.

American armored cars lead way into Mexico.

When the American troops rushed into Mexico to quell the Villa rebels who were attacking Juarez and whose fire endangered the lives of American citizens in El Paso, just across the border, heavily armored motor cars led the way across the International Bridge. The photo shows one of the armored cars of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry leading the way into Juarez. Infantry, cavalry and artillery following in the wake of the motor cars, quickly drove the Villista forces from the city and its environs.

WM. BURNETT DIES OF HEART FAILURE

William Burnett, a well-known farmer of the Hook road died at his home Tuesday night at 11 o'clock. He had been failing for a year suffering with heart trouble which resulted in his death.
Mr. Burnett was 71 years of age and was born in England, but he had lived in this country for the past 38 years. He is survived by his wife and three children, Mrs. Wilbur Reyner and Mrs. D. P. Walters of Dayton and Charles of the Hook road. He also leaves seven grandchildren all of whom are at home except William Rayner, who is still with the A. E. F.
Funeral services will be held at the late home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

MORE TROUBLE IN THE BILLE FAMILY

Alleging gross neglect of duty, Ollie C. Bille, has brought suit for divorce from Mike Bille, to whom she was married November 16, 1916. She says that he "unduly molests," and threatens her. She asks to be restored to her maiden name. The husband brought suit for divorce some time ago, but the court refused to grant him a decree.
The defendant is a brother of Tony Bille, whose wife, Bertha C. Bille, a sister of Mrs. Mike Bille threw acid in her husband's face last winter because she was angry when he sued her for divorce. Later the couple patched up their difficulties and resumed their married life.

REFEREE QUESTION
STILL UNSETTLED

By Frank G. Menke.
Toledo, O., June 25.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announced today:
"I am unalterably opposed to any plan for the Willard-Dempsey fight that provides for any other ring official than a referee. Operating with a referee and two judges is all right for amateur bouts—but not this one. Every other heavyweight championship battle was decided solely by a referee and that's the way with this one."
Kearns's statement was made prior to a confab on the "third man" question which involved Jess Willard, Tex Rickard and W. A. Gavin, and Adam Empie, members of the national boxing commission. At the session Willard was asked to submit a list of names of men suitable to him for the refereeing job. He also looked over the list that Kearns had submitted at last night's conference.
The Kearns list embraced the following:
Jack Welsh and Jim Griffith of San Francisco; Jack Skelley, of Yonkers, N. Y.; Walter C. Kelley, of Buffalo; Ed. Smith of Chicago; Dave Fitzgerald of New Haven, Conn.; Ollie Pecord of Toledo; Bill Brown, Kid McPartland and Billy Roche, all of New York.

"Any one of that crowd suits me," said Kearns. "However, I feel that Brown and Welsh stack up as the strongest," he added. "I'd like to get this referee matter settled. We could get somewhere today if Willard would only make up his mind and then speak it. I understand that he favors but one man for the refereeing job, but up to date I have not been able to learn his identity. If its one of the men on my list then it will take all of us only about five minutes to settle the matter."
However, it is believed that Willard's real choice for referee is Tex Rickard, who probably wouldn't accept unless to prevent a hopeless deadlock.

MAX SIMONS LEAVES
ESTATE TO WIFE

The estate of the late Max Simon, valued at $23,500, is bequeathed to the widow, Selma Simon, by the terms of the will, which was admitted to probate yesterday. The bequest is made on condition that the widow pay to the two sisters of the testator, Bertha and Elsie Simon, who live at Worms-on-the-Rhine, Germany, or "the survivor of them," $100 every three months, during their lifetime. The estate consists of $15,000 in personal property, and $8500 real estate. The will was executed November 16, 1916.

NEW GERMAN PREMIER WHO ACCEPTS TREATY.

Herr Gustave Adolph Bauer, majority Socialist and former Labor Minister, who has been chosen Premier in the reorganized German Cabinet. The Cabinet of Herr Bauer is committed to sign the peace treaty without condition, according to a report from Weimar. Premier Bauer, as Minister of Labor, succeeded in bringing about a settlement of the recent general strike in Berlin.

Help your Boy Adjust
Himself to Peace

SUPPOSE you'd spent the past year in hurdling machine gun nests—or potting submarines—or swooping over the German lines in an airplane: wouldn't the old home seem a little quiet, almost dull, after you'd been back a few days? Quite a problem—to adjust yourself to the humdrum life of peace after gambling with death daily for many months. And that's the problem which faces your boy. You can help solve it. Give him
